Of Fayette. & lotorial Representative for Shelby and Fagette WM. A. COLLIEB, Of Shelby, Senators for Shelby County, J. J. DUBOSE, S. C. MADDOX. Representatives for Shelby County, M. D. L. STEWARL, GE & B. PETERS, HENRY L. DOUGLASS, W. H. NELSON, W. W. COLEMANN, THOMAS C. LOWE.

OHIO AND INIDANA. ness two States vote to-day, and as are extremely anxious. Both the Demoguine of success, but it is evident both carry Ohio, the canvass would be virtu-Democrats, but the probabilities are the latter will be victorious. As to Indiana, we have no doubt of a Democratic vic tory. If the contest should be close in both States, the result of the President al election will still be in doubt, with the chances strongly in favor of Tilden; for if States like Indiana and Ohio, generally voting for the Republicans, waver, the States of New York, Connecticut, New Jersey, California and crate, would unquestionably vote for Tilden, which would secure his election. If the Republicans lose both Ohio and Indiana to-day, Tilden's election is as sured. If they carry both by small majorities the contest will be by the administration, on these two States. The result will be known at the APPEAL to-night by eleven or twelve o'clock, and the raturns will be given to the public to-morrow morning.

THE STRENGTH OF DORSEY B. THOMAS.

Old Mrs. Partington, trying to sweep back the rising tide with her broom was a very lu fier us spectacle, but not more so than Domey B. Thomas and his little band of claqueurs, trying to resist the inevitable tendency of affairs in this State. These men pretend not to comprehend their weakness. When the Republicans held their State convention at Nashville, isst summer, a bargain was struck between them and the Inde pendents. No nomination was made for governor, because the contracting parties had sold out to Thomas. The solid Radical vote was to be transferred to him. This little arrangement did not suit the true and honest men of the Rapublican party, who denounced the trade as a base betrayal of principle, an 1 a cowardly, cringing submission to which they would not submit; and, consequently, there was a bolt, an indignant repudiation of the corrupt trade made by the scheming tricksters. In order to carry out the bargain, and frighten the Republicans, Dorsey B Thomas announced publicly that if a Republican caudidate were placed in the field he would retire. Since that time two Republicans-Yardley and Maney-have announced thems :lves as candidates, and are now hounding after Governor Porter, the Democratic nominee; but Mr. Thomas is still Radicals who were parties to the trade are trying to bully and blackguard and-thunder stories he manufactures for with this pointed paragraph: Yardley and Maney off the track. But use on the hustings. Served without Served without the paragraph:

Republican, while mourning over the builder of making no nomination, says:

As between the candidates in the field, Gover and Porter is the least objectionable, he representing a principle and a party, obnexious though that party and principle be to Republican. The others are more political querilians. The others are more political querilians, representing themselves, and not a party of feetion. As for Mr. Thomas, it is doubtful in the gets a fiepholican vote. His repud attor As between the candidates in the field, Governer Porter is the least objectionable, he representing a principle and a party, obnexions though that party and principle be to Republicans. The others are more political guerilities, representing themselves, and not a party of faction. As for Mr. Thomas, it is doubtful there is a Republican vote. His repud attory was a regall and wromwood to all Republicans. Mr. Yandier for five for the control of the contr views are gall and wromwood to all Republicans Mr. Yardiey, for flying is the acc of the convention and announcing himself a candidate cannot get the vote of his party; though we are frank to so and that as he is a life-long kernel. Republican, his claums are superior to General Maney, whose conversion is of late date. Exept a change occur in sentiment, a majority of the Republicans of the State will not vote for any one for governor; quite a number will giver their support to Porte; Yard ey and Ma-ney will divide the remainder.
